

Sara Kozumplik Hosting Linda Zang Clinics in Ocala

January 4, 2012 - Ocala, FL - Sara Kozumplik to bring Linda Zang up from Wellington to Ocala for twice a month dressage clinics and private lessons starting January 5th and 6th. "The farm I have rented has a dressage arena with excellent footing and mirrors, extra stalls, and camper hookup," said Sara. "I think Linda is the best I have ever worked with."

The USEF issued this statement in their press release when they chose Linda as their first inductee to the Hall of Fame:

"In recognition of her achievements as an international competitor, FEI judge, FEI technical delegate, clinician, and leader of international organizations. She has been one of the most highly respected FEI "O" judges in the world since 1995 and has officiated at the 1996 Olympic Games as well as eight World Cup Finals ... Ms. Zang has been a leading proponent of U.S. dressage in international circles."

Linda will be here this Thursday and Friday (January 5th and 6th), and there are a couple of spots left. Also, anyone is welcome anytime to come over and watch her teach for free. I will have more dates scheduled and announced by Monday. Please feel free to contact me if interested. Sara Kozumplik 703.930.3409 sara@overlookfarmequestriancenter.com.
